1. Discharge Certificate Form (M-100) is the primary document for the discharge of a service member. It is prepared by the medical personnel and contains information regarding the member's medical condition, treatment received, and the medical board's findings. This document is essential for the member's future medical care and for determining their eligibility for various benefits.

2. The Medical History Sheet provides a detailed account of the member's medical history, including all illnesses, injuries, and treatments received during their service. This information is crucial for any future medical evaluations and for understanding the member's long-term health status.

3. The Final Discharge Certificate is a document that certifies the member's discharge from the military. It includes information about the member's service record, the date of discharge, and the medical board's decision. This document is used by the member's civilian employer and by the Department of Veterans Affairs to determine the member's eligibility for benefits.

4. The Proceedings of the Medical Board are the official records of the board's deliberations and decision-making process. These proceedings include the board members' names, their qualifications, the member's statements, and the board's final decision regarding the member's discharge status.

5. The Medical Report is a document that provides a summary of the member's medical condition and the medical board's findings. It is used by the member's civilian employer and by the Department of Veterans Affairs to determine the member's eligibility for benefits.

6. The Neurological Conduct Sheet is a document that provides information about the member's neurological condition and the medical board's findings. This information is used by the member's civilian employer and by the Department of Veterans Affairs to determine the member's eligibility for benefits.

7. The Company Conduct Sheet is a document that provides information about the member's conduct during their service. This information is used by the member's civilian employer and by the Department of Veterans Affairs to determine the member's eligibility for benefits.
